

Nancy,

When I became transportation director for a mid-sized district in Iowa 6 years ago, each activity trip and field trip was written by hand in triplicate! I continued to do this for the first year, while making a spreadsheet that could coordinate all types of trips by date. Payroll was another matter all together! You can imagine how disorganized I felt.

I looked at various products to streamline scheduling for our district. Edulog Fieldtrip was the logical solution. Other members of our district can create requests. I can approve and assign drivers and buses, and then have the schedule prepared instantly.

It has saved me a tremendous amount of time and stress. We only use a small amount of what Fieldtrip is capable of doing for us, but we are looking at ways to tie it into our accounting department and thereby eliminate one more disjointed step from our operation!

I think Fieldtrip is a great choice even for districts that think they may be too small to spend a lot of money on routing software. Route buses go pretty much the same place every day. Fieldtrip helps you keep track of groups, drivers, and buses that go DIFFERENT directions every day! And it was affordable to us. How can you go wrong?

Thank you,

Tom
